

ESCORT CRAZED BY 'HOOCH,' GIRL HAS HYSTERIA

His Antics Affect Companion.
Whose Condition Puzzles
Hospital Physicians.

A unique case of hysteria was reported early to-day at Bellevue Hospital, after Margaret Ormond, seventeen years old, of No. 4 Hamilton Street, had been taken there from Perry's drug store in the Pulitzer Building.

Miss Ormond was taken into the drug store by friends with whom she had been at a dance. Remedies did not avail and a policeman was called. He was unable to restore her and called an ambulance from Volunteer Hospital. The surgeon decided to take her to Bellevue, where her condition puzzled the doctors.

Her friends said her escort at the dance took a drink of hooch some one had bought at $6 a pint from a boot-licker. He soon began trying to jump in front of street cars, and when they got on the "L" platform at Third Avenue and Ninth Street he stopped several times by pretending he was going to jump. His condition became such that friends rushed him home.

Then Miss Ormond, who had not drunk anything, showed signs of hysteria, and by the time the bridge was reached she had to be taken to the drug store.

"EX-SERVICE" MEN'S NERVE BETTER THAN THEIR BRAINS.

Pair of Fakers Get Two Months
Each After Soliciting Alms in 69th Regiment Armory.

Two "ex-service men" had the nerve to enter the 69th Regiment Armory last night and solicit money in a fake scheme "to aid disabled soldiers." In Men's Night Court, Magistrate Levine expressed admiration for the exhibition of nerve, but sentenced them to sixty days each in the workhouse.

The men said they were Edward Jackson, twenty-eight, and Albert Parker, thirty-six, both homeless. They entered the armory after a drill was finished, claimed they were members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and showed some papers. Some men contributed to the representation their money would go to aid former soldiers now disabled. Sgt. Max Puttitz gave 50 cents, all he had in his pocket. Jackson was indignant enough to say that his army service had been with the 69th Regiment. Puttitz quickly put him in a hole by questioning him as to company, commanding officer and other details. When he took the two before Judge Dwyer, who questioned them further.

Detective Wilson of the East 22d Street Station was called in. He arrested the men and Puttitz went to Night Court as complainant. Jackson and Parker admitted they were fakers.

CAVALIERI'S NERVES HALT OPERA RETURN

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Music lovers are interested in the announcement that the reappearance here with the Chicago

Opera Company of Lina Cavalieri has been postponed indefinitely by the diva, probably until next season. She was to have sung in Town last Tuesday.

Director Mary Garden announced that Mme. Cavalieri's appearance had been forbidden by her physician. The doctor, a nerve specialist, has added that Mme. Cavalieri is suffering from a nervous breakdown due to overwork and excitement. Mme. Cavalieri herself says she had worked hard to prove that she was as good as when she appeared in 1914 with her husband, Luiten Muratore, and now is heartbroken because "my voice is better to-day than ever, but my nerves are very, very poor."

*Madam—here is a gift
you know he will use*

JUST as you can be sure he would drive a Cadillac, a Packard or Pierce Arrow if you gave him one, you can be sure he'll use the Parker Duofold.

What these cars are to the automobile world this new Parker is to the world of fountain pens. It is the finest fountain pen made.

Duofold is a gift he will be proud to own and use. When he sees its rich Pompeian brown body and jet black trim—its heavy gold nib and gold Parker clip—when he writes with it, no other pen will do.

It's a gift that he'll use through the years. Duofold is guaranteed for thirteen hundred weeks against defective material and workmanship. The price is $7.

You will find a special display of Duofold and other Parker Gift Pens at Parker Dealers now. Visit a Parker Store on your next shopping trip. Styles from $2.50 to $30.00.

Exquisite hand-made French lace
Window Panels and Curtains

$20 to $85 Window Panels—$13.25 to $56.50

75, from France, of fine French scrim, hand-made, hand-embroidered and decorated with hand-drawn work, edged and richly paneled with insertion and motifs of hand-made laces—filet, Cluny, point Venise, Flanders and antique lace.

Some have fine linen fringe or tassels on their scalloped shaped bottoms.

These are 36 to 54 in. wide and may be had single or in sets—one wide panel for a center window and two narrower panels for side windows, if desired.

$52 to $150 Scrim Curtains—$34.50 to $100

50 pairs, also from France, and also entirely hand-made, and richly embroidered in eyelet work and drawn-work, trimmed with bands, panels, motifs, insertions, edgings of real lace—Cluny, filet, Flanders, antique, point Venise.

These curtains are all 3 or 3½ yards long—particularly desirable for the New York and Southern houses which have high ceilings.

Fourth Floor, New Building.

The BLANKET Shop is "teeming with excellent values"

So says the head of it. And he is right. We do not know of a shop in the country which has so many fine and reasonably-priced blankets. New goods, for our stocks move briskly.

All-wool blankets, $8.75 pair

Plaids—a nice block design, in blue, pink, tan, gray; also in gray with pink borders. Double bed size.

Wool-filled Comforters at $6.50

Cut 72 x 84 in. 3 lbs. of wool in them—more than usually goes into a comforter. Cover has floral design in center and back, with sixteen borders of pink or blue, stitched all over.

Light on Thanksgiving

The graceful Piano lamp.
The Chair Lamp.
The Bridge lamp.
The Davenport lamp.

NEW—all new. And it is amazing what a variety of twists and turns the lamp designer's mind takes. In its proper environment, any one of these new lamps will give a comforting light, and help in the decorative scheme.

Large, beautiful stock of Silk Lamp Shades

Many are exclusive. The assemblage, as a whole, is unique. All sizes and shapes and colors. $15 to $135.

Second Gallery, New Building

A number of things make these Hand-bags unusual at $5

They are just the right size—not too big and not too little. The materials are favorites—chiffon velvet, duvetyne and moire silk.

The metal frames are of the straight, simple type—etched in designs of distinct charm and finished in green gold, dull gold or French silver color.

The linings are of closely woven silk in attractive colorings.

Black, navy blue, brown, taupe.

Tweeds and Homespuns at $6 to $18.75

Of course, the models are the plain, severely tailored type that emphasize the smartness of the fabrics.

Brilliant colors—red, blue, purple, orange—have been discreetly combined with colors less vivid in hue into patterns that are chic without being bizarre.

Pockets are cleverly designed and are sometimes marked with bands of leather, buttons or amusingly fringed so they'll not escape notice.

Tweeds in plain colors or heringbone weaves in gray or brown are also included.

And all sports colors.

What is that mysterious 'something' in

WHENCE comes that fine co-ordination of eye and nerve and muscle that makes 20-yard gains—that picks the gap in the opposing line and battles through to a winning touchdown?

What is that something—that all around vigor of mind and body—which some of us have and all of us want?

It is that mysterious "something" which comes from certain foods. It is the mysterious "something" in H-O.

H-O (Hornby's Oatmeal) is good food.

We can see for ourselves the appetizing, curly, nut-brown flakes as they come in the package. We know that this blend of the best oats obtainable cooks into as delicious a breakfast as man ever tasted. And we know that because the H-O process leaves all of Nature's goodness in these oats, they cook up large and whole. But—well—there is something more...

There is that mysterious "something" found in H-O alone. Try it!

The exclusive H-O process of pan toasting and super steaming for two hours not only develops that mysterious "something," but makes H-O perfectly digestible, and does away with over-night cooking in the home. H-O is the only oatmeal prepared in this way.

H-O Muffins

1/2 cupful of uncooked H-O
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon melted fat

Sift the dry ingredients together. Add the egg well beaten and the melted fat. Last add the H-O and pour into well greased muffin tin. Bake in a moderate oven 20 to 30 minutes. Serve hot with butter and preserves.

Ask your grocer for H-O—the best oatmeal in the world.
